[XIXth Year.] THURSDAY, September 22, 1763. [N°. 959.]

RATISBON, June 23.

A VILLAGE named Vohenstrauss, six Miles from Sulzbach, which had been already burnt down four Times, and, since the last, rebuilt in a most beautiful Manner, has lately been destroyed by Fire a Fifth Time. On the 9th of June, in the Afternoon, a Fire broke out in the Market Place, which, by the Violence of a Wind, in less than Half an Hour set Fire to the whole Town, whereby 158 Dwelling-Houses, 102 Barns, the Parsonage, and Malt-House, with the Church, Steeple, and Bells, the Town-House with the Church, the Townhall, and Records, Places of Public Worship, the Townhall and Records, Places of Public Worship, the Townhall and Records, Places of Public Worship, together with all their Effects and Libraries, and all the Corn, were reduced to Ashes, and but few small Habitations left standing. The Inhabitants saved little or nothing of their Effects, most of them having enough to do to save their Lives; and their Distress is very great, having neither Cattle, Money, nor Bread. Some Persons were unfortunately burnt, and many greatly hurt. Some Waggon Loads of Bread have been sent by the Magistrates of Winden to the Relief of these unfortunate Persons.

Paris, June 3. This Day the following Ordinance was published here.

By the KING.

BE it known to all Men, that a good, firm, permanent, and solid Peace, with an entire and sincere Reconciliation, has been made and agreed upon, between the most puissant Prince Lewis, by the Grace of God, King of France and Navarre, our Sovereign Lord: The most high, most excellent, and most potent Prince George, King of Great-Britain, Elector of Brunswick Lunenburg: And the most high, most excellent, and most potent Prince Joseph, King of Portugal, and of the Algarves, their Vassals, Subjects and Servants, in all their Kingdoms, Countries, Territories and Lordships, under their Obedience: That the said Peace is general between them, and their said Vassals and Subjects; and that by Means thereof, they are permitted to go, come, remain, and sojourn in all the Places of the said Kingdoms, States, and Countries; to Traffick, and carry on Trade, to hold Correspondence, and to have Communication with each other, and this with all Liberty, Freedom and Safety, as well by Land as by Sea, and on the Rivers and other Waters, and the whole entirely in the same Manner as it has been, and ought to be practised, in Time of good, sincere and friendly Peace, such as that which it has pleased the Divine Goodness to give to the said Lord the King, to the said Lord the King of Great-Britain, Elector of Brunswick Lunenburg, to the said Lord the King of Portugal, and of the Algarves, and to their People and Subjects. And in order to maintain them therein, it is most expressly forbidden to all Persons, of what Quality and Condition soever they may be, to undertake, attempt, or innovate any Thing to the contrary, or to the Prejudice thereof, on Pain of being severely punished, as Violaters of Peace, and Disturbers of the public Tranquility. And to the End that no one may pretend Ignorance hereof, these Presents shall be read, published, and affixed where it shall be necessary. Done at Versailles, the 9th Day of June, 1763. Signed Louis. And lower, the Duke de Praslin, and sealed with the small private Seal.

LONDON, June 21.

Extract of a Letter from Lisbon, May 30.

"To-morrow is appointed for four Regiments of Foot to be reviewed before the King; but as the Weather is set in rainy, we presume it will be put off. They exercise after the English Method, and they fay perform very well, and make a good Appearance. A black Eagle, set round with Diamonds, is ordered from England for the Workmen here not being able to make it well) to be made a Present to the Count de Lippe, of the Value of 100,000 Cruzadoes, or Crowns of this Country; and there is likewise ordered from England, a large Service of fine Plate, to be presented to him."

June 23. Our Troops repossessed themselves of Fort Marlon the 31st of May, after being dispossessed of it about Eight Years.

We are informed, that there never was a greater Prospect of Plenty than is now in Lincolnshire, Yorkshire, Lancashire, &c.

Yesterday the Rev. Mr. Rutick, Mr. Arthur Beardmore, his Clerk, and Messrs. Wilson and Fell, were discharged by the Court of King's Bench from the Recognizances they were obliged to enter into in last Michaelmas Term, on Account of several Numbers of the Monitor, concerning which no Prosecution has been carried on. We hear these Gentlemen intend to bring Actions for false Imprisonment.

We are assured, that there are already some Altercations between our Court and that of France in regard to the Shipbuilding carrying on in different Ports of that Kingdom.

We hear that above Fifty Transports are kept still in the Government's Service.

Notice is given at the General Post-Office, that the Post-Masters General have added a Fifth Packet-Boat to the New-York Station, in order to have a speedier Communication from London to any Part of North America; and that during the Time the Mails will be dispatched from the General Post-Office and New-York the second Saturday of every Month, and the Boats will sail immediately after the Mail is come, Wind and Weather permitting.

They write from Brest, that a Convoy with all Sorts of Provisions was to sail from Rochfort the 26th of May for the Islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon.

June 30. We have that Sir Charles Frederick, Surveyor General to the Office of Ordnance, will set out in a few Days to view the Fortifications round the Coast, and particularly to give Information for making a new Fortification at Milford Haven.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, June 25.

"On Monday his Majesty's Ships Raisonne and Alborough fell down from Spithead to St. Helen's, to wait for a Wind, in order to sail to North America to their several Stations.

Sunday arrived at Plymouth the Intrepid Man of War from New-York.

The Parliament will not meet for the Dispatch of Business till the 11th of next January.

By a Gentleman who arrived on Thursday Evening from Dunkirk, we learn, that all the Fortifications of that Place were almost entirely destroyed; and that in a few Days the Workmen were to begin to stop up the Harbour so far as to prevent Ships of Burthen sailing into it.

July 2. A Letter from on board the Royal Captain Indiaman, arrived at Spithead from China, says, Without doubt you have heard of the unhappy Fate which happened to the Elizabeth, in the Blue Tiger, near Canton in China, the 8th of January, 1763. She and Five between Ten and Eleven o'Clock at Night, unless every Body was asleep in their Hammocks; and the Fire had got so far a Head before the Alarm was given, that in about Half an Hour after the Men was up, and the Masts, Sails, and Rigging, were overboard. We had not Time to get the Boat out. It was a most shocking and dismal Sight to see so many poor Souls, some in the Rigging, and others jumping in the Seas and being Four Leagues from any Shore, and Time from any Ship, before we could get any Assistance, we were obliged either to stay and be burnt, or jump into the Sea. We left our Captain, Second and Fifth Mates, with Forty-four Men. Right and myself were taken up by the Harmony's Boat.

The Walpole was taken outward bound by two French Men of War and 2 Frigats in the Month of September, in Sight of Zealand. The Captain and some of the Crew were at the Cape; the rest at Mauritius.

Cargo of the Royal Captain, from China, viz. 3000 Pieces of Nankeen Cloth, 3070 lb. of Sapon, 391,400 lb. of Bohea Tea, 42,200 lb. ditto Congo, 207,900 lb. ditto Singlo, 232,500 lb. Turenague, 52 Chests, 58 half ditto, and one Box, of China Ware, besides several Parcels of Goods, the Particulars whereof are not yet known.

July 9. Orders are given for the Commanders of such Sloops and Vessels as have been put in Commission, and not yet sailed, to be as expeditious as possible in putting to Sea, and sailing to their respective Stations, to cruize on the Smugglers.

A Gentleman in the City having laid a Wager of 500 l. that Dunkirk Harbour and Fortifications would not be completely destroyed, determined to go over himself and examine. He is now returned, and acknowledges his Wager lost. The whole Fortifications and Basins, he says, are completely destroyed, so as that they could not be reinstated in 20 Years at least, if it were intended; and that what now is destroyed from the Peace, cost upwards of Five Millions Sterling, at different times, to complete it.

A Gentleman at Fort William, in Bengal, to his Friend in London, by the Ship Godolphin, just arrived, dated February 17, 1762, says, We have all been greatly alarmed by one of the most dreadful Phænomena of Nature, viz. An Earthquake, whereby the whole Earth about Calcutta was in violent Agitations for four Minutes, but happily very little Damage done. At Chitteagong, a Subordinate to this Place, they felt Twelve Shocks, which shook down all the Brick Buildings in the Place; and at a little Distance from the Factory, the Earth opened, and Water and Mud gushed out in great Abundance; opened, and Water and Mud gushed out in great Abundance; and there now remains a Chasm in the Place Three or Four Feet wide. At Dacca, another Subordinate, a large River was entirely dried up, by a large Bank of Sand which rose in the middle of it; the Consequence of which was, that in a short Time she ancient Bed of the River was deprived by it's Waters, and is now as dry as any Part of the Country.

Yesterday Morning at Nine, came on at Guildhall, before Lord Chief Justice Pratt, of the Common Pleas (who for the greater Convenience of the Council, Jury, &c. sat where the Court of King's Bench is usually held) the Cause wherein Mr. William Huckell, one of the Journeymen Printers who were apprehended on Account of the North Briton, No. 45, was Plaintiff, for false Imprisonment, and the King's Messengers Defendants. The Council for the Plaintiff were Mr. Serjeant Glynn, Mr. Stow, Mr. Dunning, Mr. Wallace, and Mr. Gardiner: For the Defendants, Mr. Attorney and Mr. Solicitor General, Mr. Serjeant Whitaker, Mr. Serjeant Nares, Mr. Serjeant Davy, and Mr. Yates. The Attorney for the Plaintiff was Mr. James Philips of Cecil-Street; and for the Defendants, Philip Carteret Webb, Esq; of the Treasury, and Mr. Secondary Barnes. At Eight in the Evening, the Jury, which was Special, and consisted of eminent Merchants of the City of London, another of the Messengers at the said long respected Cause, wherein Mr. James Lloyde, one of the Printers arrested on Account of the favourable North Briton, No. 45; was Plaintiff, and Three of the King's Messengers were Defendants; when, after a Hearing of Four Hours, a Verdict was given for the Plaintiff in 100 Pounds Damages, with full Costs of Suit.

Verdicts were also given in Twelve other Causes, commenced against the same Defendants, by Messrs. William Richard, Francis Seale, George Kearsley, Benjamin Read, John Chattie, John Streeter, Robert M'Lean, Henry Sabine, Thomas Caslon, Michael Curry, George Savage Carey, Winfield Haynes, and David Slade, who are Printers, and were apprehended on the same Account, in 400 l. Damages in each Plaintiff, with full Costs of Suit.

The whole Damages given against the King's Messengers in the Fourteen Causes, which have been tried, amount to 6300 l. besides all the Costs of Suit, which will be very considerable.

It is remarkable that this is the 6th Attack that has been made upon the Authority of Secretaries of State, and still abolish the dangerous Practice of issuing general and unconstitutional Warrants.

Nothing could equal the Spirit and Magnanimity of the Jury in their intrepid Resolution to decide this very important Point, and refusing to find a special Verdict, though strenuously contended for by the Defendant's Council; and no Age has produced a Determination of more general and extensive Consequence to every free born Englishman.

At Chelsea, in Scotland, the Effigy of John Wilkes, Esq; has been burnt, on Account of the Reflections in the North Briton on the Character of a noble Peer who is a Native of that Kingdom.

July 12. Next Michaelmas Term will be tried the Actions which Mr. Wilkes has brought against Philip Carteret Webb and Robert Wood, Esquires.

We are informed that the Rev. Mr. Rutick, Mr. Arthur Beardmore and his Clerk, and Messrs. Wilson and Fell, have given Notice to the Right Hon. the Earl of Halifax, in pursuance of the Act of Parliament of the 24th of the late King (on which the Bill of Exceptions last Week exhibited at Guildhall on the Trial of the Journeymen-Printers is founded) that they shall bring their several Actions against his Lordship and the Messengers for their Imprisonment, on Account of the several Numbers of the Monitor, concerning which no Prosecution having been carried on, their several Recognizances were by the Court of King's Bench discharged the last Day of last Term.

The Duke of Cumberland Packet-Boat, Goodridge, is arrived at Falmouth with the Mail from New-York, in 25 Days.

July 22. By Advices lately received from Bengal, we hear, the Ship Fatty John, bound from Surat to Bengal, richly laden with 600 Chests, was taken on the 12th of September last, by three French Men of War, near Cochin on the Malabar Coast; the Commodore took out the Captain, and all the European Sailors, except Richard Price, the chief Mate, and left on board 20 Lascars; and put on board the Prize 4 French Officers, 8 prize Sailors, and one Lascar; and ordered them to steer for Mauritius; and the 14th they lost Sight of the French Ships. Richard Price, being a bold and resolute Officer, spirited up the Lascars to stand by him in order to recover the Ship; on which a bloody Engagement ensued; ten of the French were killed before they would give up the Ship. The above Richard Price is arrived safe with his Prize at Bengal.

Yesterday Morning about One o'Clock a Fire broke out at the Crane at New Stairs, Wapping, which burnt with great Fierceness for four Hours, before it could be stop'd, and consumed all the Houses from the New Stairs to King James's Stairs, and from the River Side back to the Garden Ground, which includes both Sides of the Street called Wapping-wall, and part of New Gravel-Lane; it ended in consuming Mr. Wilson's large and fine Granary. The Number of Houses burnt are computed about 170, besides Ware-houses, Docks, &c. and it is reckoned 1300 Persons, Heads-keepers, Lodgers, &c. are burnt out. In the Dock by Crane Stairs was the Mary Galley, Capt. Clarke, a fine Ship in the West-India Trade, almost ready to come out of Dock, which was entirely confumed to the Keel, with all the Materials about the Dock. It is said the Fire broke out in Gibbon's Small-beer Brewery, and imprudently communicated itself to the Ship Alehouse and the Wind blowing strong from the South, carried the Flames to the Dock-yard, and other Houses adjoining; and the Street being narrow, greatly impeded the Working of the Engines. Two Men are said to be buried in the Ruins; and a Fireman, by the Falling in of part of a Wall, had his Skull fractured.

The Damage done by the late Fire in Wapping is so considerable, that the Sun-Fire Office alone will have 40,000 l. to pay the Sufferers.

July 28. We learn by Letters of our People that are returned from Brest, who carried over a Frigate, bought on the French King's Account, that the French behaved very civilly to them, and were more sumptuous than ever we were in Time of War, even to our general Enemies; having there on board a small Shock, which killed with the Fingers to bring them back, without suffering them to take in Water, though they told the Harbour-master they had only 30 Gallons on board, which was not a Gallon for each Man. What must have become of these People, had not the Wind favoured them?

A Scheme is ready to be produced to the Government for establishing a new Commerce in Florida.

Extract of a Letter from Armagh, July 6.

I suppose you have learned Account in Dublin concerning the Disturbances we have in the North, on Account of the heavy Cesses laid on last Autumn. There are great Numbers risen on that Occasion, in different Parts of the Country, and this Day a great many of them paraded in the Market Hill, and from whence proceeded to one Mr. Stevenson, who lives near Rich; Hill, in the Monaghan, in order to chastise him (as they have done some others already) for having informed in laying on those Cesses. A Party coming from Newry this Morning met them at Rich; Hill, all marching in Order, and many of them Armed. He saw them filled in half rose Miles of the Road, and were formed into Companies, with such a Number of Colours, displayed; of which he saw Seventeen. They had Drums, Horns, Pistols and Bagpipes. They have robbed several Gallows in different Places, at one of which they hang a Ladder, Rope, and Cap tied with a black Ribbon. They say, unless we first to submit the constituent Cities; then more, if we told they meant to oblige the Clergy to give up the small Dues; and for that Purpose, I am informed, they have wifted several of them. They all wear Oak Branches in their Hats, and call themselves Hearts of Oak.

The Special Jurymen, before whom the first Cause against the King's Meffengers was tried on Wednesday, were,

Peter Cazalet, Foreman	John Welkett
Richard King	Joseph Mico
William Bond	James Randall
Thomas Dickins	Frederick Tuth
Thomas Selwin	Peter Dubamps
John Daniel Cottin	Benjamin Watkinson.

PROVIDENCE, September 3.

A Gentleman lately arrived from Surinam, informs us, That the Insurrection of the Negroes at the Dutch Settlement at Berbecia, was entirely quelled, and every Thing would soon be reduced to its former State; great Numbers of the rebellious Negroes have been put to Death, for the future Security of that Place.

NEW-YORK, September 12.

By an Express arrived on Saturday last, we learn, that Fort Detroit still held out strongly against the Savages; and that they were no Ways likely to succeed in their Attempt, notwithstanding they came well provided for the Attack.

By Letters from London we learn, that an unexceptionable Coalition of Parties would soon take Place there; and that all former Heats and Animosities on either Side would be buried in Oblivion.

PHILADELPHIA, September 15.

On Monday last an Express arrived from Reading in Berks County, with the following Intelligence, viz.

"That on Thursday last, about two o'Clock in the Afternoon, eight Indians came armed to the House of John Fincher (one of the People called Quakers) about a Mile distant from a Party of Capt. Kern's, consisting of Six Men, commanded by Ensign Sheffer, and about 24 Miles from Reading, over the Blue Mountains: That said Fincher, his Wife, two Sons, and Daughter, immediately went to the Door, and asked them if they would eat any Thing, hoped they were come as Friends, and entreated them to spare their Lives: That, however, after some Deliberation, they killed Fincher, his Wife, and two Sons, the Daughter said to be missing; but as she was heard screaming by some of the Neighbours, and crying Murder, it is feared she is likewise killed: That a little Boy made his Escape from the Savages, and came to the Ensign, who immediately went to the Place with his Party, but the Indians were gone, and finding, by their Tracks, which Way they went, pursued them to the House of one Nicholas Miller, where he found four Children murdered, the Enemy having carried off two others with them; but that said Miller, and his Wife, being at Work in a Field, saved their Lives by Flight, the Man being pursued near a Mile by one of the Indians, who fired at him twice: That our Party still pursued, and soon came up with the Enemy, and fired on them, which they returned; but the Soldiers rushed on them so furiously, that they quickly ran off, and left behind them two Prisoners, two Tomahawks, one Hanger, and a Saddle; three of their Number being badly wounded: That the two Prisoners recovered, were two of the above-mentioned Miller's Children, which they had tied together, and drove them before them: That the Persons murdered were all scalped, except a Child about two Weeks old, which they, in the most cruel Manner, dashed to Pieces against the Wall: That the Number killed over the Mountains was eight, and two missing: And that the Inhabitants had all come on this Side, and were in the utmost Distress.

"That as the Express was setting off from Reading, certain Information was brought there, that the House of Frantz Hubler, in Bern Township, about 18 Miles from Reading, was attacked, on Friday last, by the Indians, when Frantz himself was wounded, his Wife, and three Children, carried off; and three others of his Children scalped alive, two of whom are since dead."

Since our last arrived here an Express from Fort Bedford, which he left the Seventh instant. By him there is Advice, that all was well at Pittsburgh: That Capt. Hay, with the Convoy from Ligonier, had got safe there: That there had been no Disturbance from the Indians in that Quarter, since Col. BOUQUET's Victory over them: And that every thing was likewise very quiet in Cumberland County, where there seemed to be a noble Spirit, many brave Men being ready to go out in the Service of their King and Country, if properly encouraged.

Extract of a Letter from Fort Cumberland, Sept. 3.

"One Henry Adams informs me, that he was Yesterday at John Forman's Fort, about 30 Miles from this Place, on the South Branch, when an Express arrived there from Fort Pleasant, who informed, that Capt. Luke Collins, with forty Men, had followed a Party of Indians to Cheat River, one of the main Branches of the Monongahela, where he overtook them, and killed six of their Number; took 11 Guns, 14 Shot Pouches, several Horses, and a large Quantity of other Plunder, to the Amount of One Hundred Pounds, or more, exclusive of the Horses: He also released a Son of Capt. John Walton's from the Enemy. It is remarkable, that not one of the Guns taken from the Indians was loaded, and, when attacked, they were barbecuing a Buffaloe, not thinking of Danger. It appears that their Party did not consist of above Eleven, some of the Shot Pouches being taken from the Inhabitants."

I am obliged to apply to you, Sir, for a Detachment of your Militia, consisting at least of one Captain, one Lieutenant, one Ensign, and five Serjeants, and Sixty Rank and File; and I must request you to have them well appointed with Arms and Ammunition, and dispatch them to Winchester with the greatest Expedition, where I shall wait to give them further Orders."

I DO acknowledge, that in the Year 1760, Account Current was drawn to me from Thomas Pbilpot, of London, Merchant, against Elliott; wherein an Article was charged, dated Feb. 1761, to Bill 18th Sept. to William Woodward for £. 3 : 14 : 0, which Article I did then deem to be just, and upon looking into my Books and Papers, could find no Memorandum of any such Bill, and did thereupon make Oath, that no such Bill had passed through my Hands; since which Time the Affair having been much talked of in the Neighbourhood, I have had Occasion to look further back, and do find a Bill for that Sum passed through my Hands in the Year 1759. How just a Transaction of this Nature can be imputed to me as a Fault, I leave the Impartial to consider; there appearing a manifest Difference in the Dates of the Bills, of no less than two Years; as likewise a Difference between the Oath taken by me and the Printed Advertisements set up by Mr. Forster, who has declared in that, that Daniel never having received such Bill as is therein mentioned: The Oath taken before Mr. Cousins, a which is annexed, will plainly convince every One of the Truth of what I have advanced.
